

Soling 1 Metres Get Things Started

Opening day for the Soling 1M fleet at Steveston RC Sailing Club saw 12 boats on the line for some very light wind racing. While we all appreciated the good turnout, well set course and dry skies the lack of wind disappointed us a bit. Three races were completed before it shut down all together.

We consider ourselves lucky to sail our boats in this excellent venue which is usually ice free and fairly flat. Depending on the day the river current can be supplemented by tidal flow or opposed by it so there is always something to be thinking about in addition to race tactics and of course those pesky rules.

This is the location for the Soling 1 M National Championship May 31 and June 1, 2025. Registration details will appear on this site very soon.
